MEET THE FAIR FUTURE!

We are a business consulting company with international scope in various regions of Europe. In the technological part of the holding, we bring products to professional as well as private lives of people – products meeting the requirements of an extra long lifetime, almost zero need for maintenance and an exceptionally fair price.

In the consulting part of the holding, we help companies to increase their sales, support their development and growth, penetrate the foreign markets, or we directly represent them in these markets. In all aspects of our activity, we put emphasis on the principle of fair approach – to clients and the care for them, to the environment and nature, to our price terms, on the basis of which we provide our products and services, and above all to human life and health.

And that is FAIR!

CONCEPT OF FAIRTECO

We at FAIRTECO believe that high quality products and services should not be a privilege of only a limited group of people. We are convinced that all present-day people deserve to live in a fair environment of their homes or work in a fair company environment being surrounded by products or enjoying services meeting the following criteria:

1. Extra long lifetime = almost absolute resistance to environmental influences
2. Completely maintenance free under common use = smooth running and innovative design
3. Fair price = extraordinary quality and high value with respect to people, life and the planet

VISION

To create a fair future through our products and services – fair to human health and natural resources.

MISSION

Under any circumstances, to bring modern people inspiring solutions into their private and professional lives via fair products and services and thus create fairer day-to-day life for most people.

VALUES

1. Ethic, respect – we play fair, neither looking down on anybody nor demeaning ourselves
2. Consciousness – we use common sense
3. Fair price – is in the foreground with us
4. Quality and value – we prefer high quality without compromises
5. Sustainability – we trust products with exceptional lifetime
6. Responsibility – is presented by an absolute zero maintenance of our products
7. Reduction and recycling – we introduce products with nearly absolute resistance to weather influences

DIVISION FAIRWELL

Within the FAIRTECO Holding, the FAIRWELL division engages in consultancy and trading with regeneration, rehabilitation and wellness devices. Currently, it is launching a unique device of the MPS brand – a professional chiropractic automatic bed combining an intensive massage with jadeite stones and deep infrared radiation with the knowledge of oriental medicine. The device supports overall regeneration and vitality of the human body. It significantly contributes to the reduction of muscular tension, stimulates blood circulation as well as the immune system and metabolism.

UNIQUE TECHNOLOGY

It is a professional medically certified wellness product which is used by a number of top sportsmen, managers and doctors or chiropractors and physiotherapists. The infrared transmitter of the MPS tunnel is manufactured by Daiugin in Japan and is patented worldwide. This unique system was developed by a team of eminent physicians working in the field of Asian and especially Chinese medicine, and specialists in cutting-edge technology.

How it works

MEDICAL PROCEDURES

The device provides three programmes of therapeutic massages. Each programme lasts ideally 33 minutes. The programmes are applied on the basis of individual requirements and specification of the user or a recommendation of a physiotherapist or a rehabilitation specialist. After a programme is chosen, the run is fully automated.

Automatic Box

After lying down on the bed and choosing a programme, an automatic box spreads above the user. The users couch themselves into the box in their own clothes, which means it is not necessary to get undressed. The body warms up beneficially and in a wholesome way but it does not sweat or sweats only minimally, as the case may be. The box is made from a special panel by a worldwide patented technology and ensures optimal and even distribution of infrared heat. The technology is in what the MPS differs from other devices with infrared heat because it generates rays in the range of 4 to 16 microns which are scientifically proven to be the most beneficial for the human body. After a procedure is finished, the box opens again automatically.

Easy Operation

The remote control of the bed is within arm's reach of the user. The main panel can be simply plugged in to a conventional socket. The switch which controls turning on/off of the device indicates the current status with a light. The temperature of the bed and overall setup of the box can be easily adjusted via an intuitive remote control that the user has at hand. It is also possible to open or close the box when a programme is in operation.

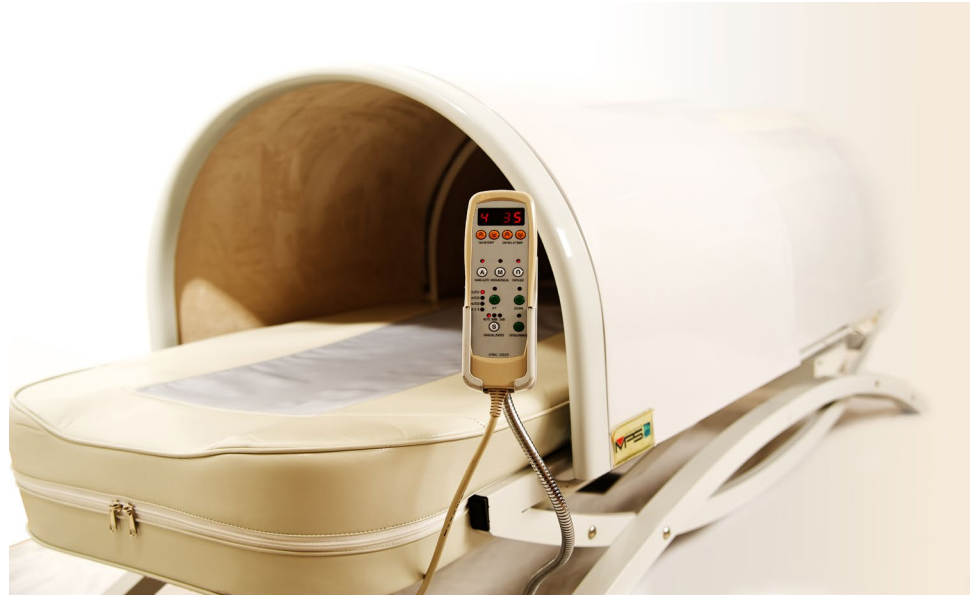

Jadeite Rollers

Jadeite rollers are the main component of the device. They are placed under the mattress in guide rails. They roll smoothly and gently along the curve of the neck, back and lumbar spine. Massage, moxibustion and acupressure alternate according to a set programme. On the lower limbs, in calves, a massage similar to acupressure is performed

Mattress

The mattress provides the latest automatic spine massage. Inside the mattress there are jadeite rollers. The temperature of the mattress (as well as the rollers) during a therapy is 50 °C and can be continuously adjusted when a programme is running. This temperature warms up the body and the muscular system ideally; the effectiveness of the chosen massage programme increases.

Mattress size	70 x 210 x 27 cm
Adapter input voltage	AC220V, 50/60 Hz
Input powerh	max. 850W

INFRARED RADIATION

It is electromagnetic radiation with a wavelength longer than that of visible light but at the same time shorter than microwave radiation. MPS emits infrared radiation at a wavelength which is proven to be highly beneficial to the human body, i.e. in the range of 4 to 16 microns. By a deep warming up of muscles, the skin, and the epidermis, infrared radiation initiates expanding blood vessels, which improves blood circulation, metabolism, and the immune system, relaxes muscle tension and stimulates fat burning.

Infrared radiation has a positive effect on:

- » PROBLEMS OF THE SPINE AND VERTEBRAE
- » JOINT AND MUCLE PAIN
- » RHEUMATIC DISEASE
- » ARTHROSIS
- » PROBLEMS WITH TENDONS
- » LUMBAGO

MOXIBUSTION

Moxibustion is a method of intense warming of acupuncture points and is based on the principles of traditional Chinese medicine. Moxibustion activates the balance of flows of vital energy and has a strong toning effect. During the therapy by MPS technology, moxibustion is performed in bed, by warmed up jadeite stones, which are installed in the rail of the main mattress. A jadeite is a gemstone similar to a nephrite, which in oriental medicine, is used for its regenerating effects. It prevents many diseases that are difficult to treat by modern medicine.

Moxibustion provides relief especially during:

- » CHRONIC FATIGUE SYNDROME
- » TREATMENT OF CHRONIC DISEASES
- » EXHAUSTION
- » HEADACHES AND MIGRAINES
- » TREATMENT OF FLU
- » CYSTITIS
- » MUSCLE INFLAMMATION
- » INDIGESTION

REGENERATION AND REHABILITATION OF THE WHOLE BODY

ACUPRESSURE

Acupressure is a 3000 years old ancient healing art. The method of treatment is based on physical pressure applied to acupuncture points. This release accumulated and blocked energy in certain areas of the body. The regenerative bed with MPS technology perfectly performs this technique as well. The massive head of jadeite stones exerts pressure on acupressure points along the spine. This favourably affects both physical and mental condition.

Acupressure results in:

- » PAIN RELIEF
- » STRENGTHENING THE IMMUNE SYSTEM
- » EXCELLENT PREVENTION OF MANY DISEASES
- » PROMOTING THE IMPROVEMENT OF BLOOD CIRCULATION
- » ENERGY INFLOW INTO THE BODY
- » STIMULATION OF REGENERATIVE PROCESSES OF THE BODY
- » IMPROVED FUNCTIONALITY OF ALL ORGANS
